DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claim 21 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as based on a disclosure which is not enabling. A source of calcium ions as a coagulant critical or essential to the practice of the invention, but not included in the claim(s) is not enabled by the disclosure. See In re Mayhew, 527 F.2d 1229, 188 USPQ 356 (CCPA 1976). It is suggested by the Examiner that calcium ion limitation should be included in Claim 21.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Patel (6,664,017). Patel teaches a combination of coagulants used in toner production processes (col. 5 lines 24-58).

Art Unit: 1756

Patel suggests similar resins for use with the toner (col. 7-8). In the alternative, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use similar known resins useful in similar known emulsion/coagulation toner production processes because of the known performance of the instantly claimed coagulants directly taught by Patel.

5. Claims 1-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Toth (6,395,445) in view of Hopper (6,416,920). Toth (col. 8 lines 17-42) teaches a combination of coagulants used in toner production processes. Toth does not teach the resin claimed. Hopper (claim 19) teaches similar resins for use with the toner in similar emulsion/coagulation toner production processes. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to use similar known resins useful in similar known emulsion/coagulation toner production processes because of the known performance of the instantly claimed coagulants directly taught by Toth.
